

STUDENTS!

WE NEED YOUR SUPPORT

WHY SHOULD YOU CARE?

Your learning conditions are staff working conditions.

When staff are stretched too thin, underpaid, or leaving the sector, students feel the impact through:

- Larger classes and heavier workloads
- Less one-on-one support and feedback
- Reduced access to specialist knowledge and services
- Growing pressure on the quality of teaching and learning

We want an education system where students and staff can thrive.

The people who make your learning possible are standing up for better pay and better conditions.

We are the lecturers, tutors, librarians, student support staff, administrators, technicians, and many others who help you succeed every day.

We love what we do. We're proud to support students and deliver quality education. But right now, we're bargaining for fair pay and decent working conditions because the people who keep tertiary education running deserve to be valued.

We're not just fighting for ourselves. We're fighting for a stronger, more sustainable tertiary education system for current and future students.

Stand With Us

Right now, our employer isn't listening.

By showing your support, you're sending a clear message that quality education matters and that the people who deliver it deserve respect.

Together, we can build a better future for tertiary education in Aotearoa. Because when staff and students stand together, we are stronger.
